The Kachin Women's Association Thailand (KWAT) was founded 20 years ago in 1999. The four women pictured above created this non-profit organization to work on behalf of Kachin women and provide services to promote the rights of women and children, gender equality and women's participation in politics. KWAT also dedicates itself to communities by providing health education and health services throughout the Kachin state, IDPs camps, and nearby villages. KWAT's hands-on service and education strengthens Kachin communities, and equips people to fight for their own rights and the well being of their communities.

Over the last 20 years, KWAT staff has collected pictures of their staff, their programs, and those they serve. In this photo book, we hope to capture the happiness, health, and education that KWAT has provided for the past two decades. We wish not only to celebrate what KWAT has already done but also the change they will make in the future.

“I did not foresee that our organization would reach to 20th anniversary mile stone when the organization was founded twenty years ago. As the organization is running by, we found out that it is very essential to provide awareness training and capacity building to our Kachin people especially women and youth. Therefore, we have been empowering youths to improve their skills, knowledge and to become great leaders for the society. KWAT has been joining various international events and advocating on Kachin issue to international community. As a result, I am very content to see that international community began to notice and understand the Kachin issues more and more. I will continuously fight for our Kachin people for fair and justice. Finally, I urged my Kachin people to highly invest in education and be united as one come a more prosperous and successful organization.”

“As a grassroots women’s organization, we are so glad serving our community through various activities in the past 20 years. And very happy to see that many more women are actively engaged in women empowerment and community development works nowadays. But still remain challenges for women to be in decision making levels. Therefore, we still need to put great effort to continue our work to empower women. Lastly, we also have a lot more to do to help establish genuine federalism in our country.”

- Mrs. San Htoi, Joint General Secretary -

Conclusion

We sincerely hope that this memorial photo book gives our viewers a greater knowledge and understanding of KWAT's activities. This photos book reflects the efforts and works we have done from 1999 to 2019.

We are committed to continue our works for the development of our community and the continual contributions and supports from local, national, and international communities are immensely necessitated in order to reach our goals for having a just and peaceful society.
